

Expectations for class with Mrs. Adams

Welcome to my class. I'm glad you are here. To foster a productive learning environment for all students, please follow the guidelines listed below.

1. Be prepared and on time for class each day. Prepared means coming with a pen, pencil and paper each day. Be in the room before the second bell so we can get started on time. If you are absent, check with Mrs. Adams as to what you missed the day(s) you were absent. Please do this ahead of time if you are planning to be gone. If you are absent for unplanned, extended periods of time, call into the SAO for work to be gathered. Your parents/guardian can pick it up by the end of the day. Please pick up the work as soon as possible to give adequate time to complete before returning to class.
2. Remember that this is your education. Teachers and parents are here to facilitate and support you in your pursuit. It is your responsibility to know what work has been assigned, when the work is due and to make sure the work is turned in on time. That also requires you to do your own work. Note academic honesty policy in the student handbook.

3. Grading curve:

B + - 88-89%	B – 82-87%	B <sub>-</sub> - 80-81%
C + - 78-79%	C – 72-77%	C <sub>-</sub> - 70-71%
F – 59% and below

*Note: Skyward does not round up. The semester grade is the average of the two final quarter grades.

Work turned in after the end of the due date day will receive half the maximum total points for the assignment. No work will be accepted two weeks after the due date. That means no last minute scramble at the end of the quarter. I have read and agree with the expectations for this class.
